Minister's Message

January: After the Christmas Holiday, After the Solstice

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

I woke early on Tuesday, December 22, the morning after the solstice, and looking out into the deep black sky wrested gratitude for the morning – the first day of winter – the first day, after so many, that would bring more light than the last. The solstice has now come and gone. The Christmas holiday, the Kwanza holiday, Hanukah, and New Years Eve have all come and gone. January is a month marked by the absence of intrigue, by our slowing pace, by the stillness of deep winter. May we remember, as this month stretches out, to count the daily blessing of increased light. The winter is long and dark but it is not without promise.

I wish you all peace in this season as in all. And I would like to share a riddle that is particularly apt for this time of year. If you feel you know for whom or what this riddle speaks, I would be intrigued to hear ... please send me an email (minister at uusterling.org) or let me know when we speak after a meeting or service.

"From Heaven I fall, though from earth I begin.

No lady alive can show such a skin.

I'm bright as an angel, and light as a feather,

But heavy and dark, when you squeeze me together.

President's Message

We Are Growing

Bonnie Lepoff

UUS is a busy, growing place. Your Board of Trustees and the Arts and Aesthetics committee have met with Tim Nachazel, our landlord, to describe the changes we want to see in our new space; met with each other to talk about paint, carpet, and new chair colors; met with our landlord again to present these design changes; and reviewed the final plans to confirm them. All this while everyone was getting ready for Christmas and shoveling out of the Blizzard of '09.

If you've been to church recently, you've seen the new floor plan during coffee hour on our electronic kiosk.

Here's the latest update on the progress of all of the above: The current occupants of our new space moved out at the end of December. Tim has received approval from Loudoun County for our use of the new space and (by the time you read this) he has filed for the building permits. He is hoping to start construction in early January.

"What does that mean to me?" I hear you asking. I can give you a general sense of what will be coming; specific dates will be shouted from the rooftops when we have them.

First: The new doorway openings to our new entry lobby will be outlined on the wall. Everyone is invited to write memories and wishes about UUS and our new space. (While this is not the usual UU way, you WILL have to stay inside the lines!)

Worship Calendar

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

The January 2010 liturgical theme is grace.

January 3 – "One Wild and Precious Life" An intergenerational service that invites participants to respond to the question, "What will you do with your one wild and precious life?"

January 10 – "Grace" World-renowned percussionist Tom Teasley will "grace" our sanctuary with his powerful music and Rev. Anya will contemplate the place of grace in our lives.

January 17 – "Martin Luther King, Jr. – I Am a Man" Rev. Anya Sammler Michael and Worship Associate Wendi Manuel-Scott will consider the broad reach of Martin Luther King, Jr.'s call for unequivocally fair and equal rights.

January 24 – "Finding Our Way Home" Rev. Evan Keely. Everyone needs a place to call home, but "home" has many different layers of meaning. One of the things we look for in religious life is a home for the soul. What does this mean, and how can we find it? Rev. Evan Keely is the Interim Senior Minister of the Unitarian Universalist Church in Reston. An Accredited Interim Minister in Training with the UUA, he served congregations in Massachusetts, Texas, and New Jersey before coming to Virginia this summer.

January 31 – "Religion, What's the Point?" In the fourth sermon of her series on Our Liberal Religious Landscape, Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael considers the practical applications of religious practice and service. Religious leaders in various times and ways have proposed that "being religious can make you healthier and happier." What are the implications of their claims? Is practical divinity somehow less divine?

Though candor and truth in my aspect I bear,

Yet many poor creatures I help to ensnare.

Though so much of Heaven appears in my make,

The foulest impressions I easily take.

My parent and I produce one another,

The mother the daughter, the daughter the mother."

Yours in Faith,

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

Second: Early this month, construction will begin in our new space and some work will begin in our current space. This will take place on a schedule coordinated with Rev Anya to minimize inconveniences to our meeting and worship schedule.

Third: Late January or early February, it will be time to "tear down this wall!" Well, not exactly, but it will be time to open the space for our new sanctuary doors. We will have a "break through the wall" party one Sunday after church services. Young and old alike can take turns swinging a sledge hammer to the wall. And you REALLY have to stay between the lines this time!

Fourth: At some point during this process, we will be able to start moving some things to our new space. When you see the announcements asking for help, please respond as enthusiastically as you can with your time and energy. All of the office furniture, equipment, and supplies will be moved; some of the supplies from our storage closet will be relocated to new storage space; and all of our kitchen stuff will be moved to our new kitchen area.

Fifth: On Sunday, February 28, we will have an official new space dedication service. This is a tentative date, but we are hopeful.

Stay tuned! Updates will be broadcast via the UUS Announce list and on our Facebook page. (Join the 25 fans of UUS and become a fan yourself.)

Leadership Day

February 6, 2010

2:30 PM – 5:30 PM Dinner Following

Accotink Unitarian Universalist Church, Burke, Virginia

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

This event is targeted to Ministers and Lay Leaders: Presidents, Board Members, and Committee heads in an effort to promote greater networking and discussion regarding growth initiatives in our congregations and in the region.

It is sponsored by the Chesapeake UU Growth Committee and the Joseph Priestley District.

Network with other leaders as you get to know and discover ways of supporting each other. Engage in conversation on ways in which a growth collaborative can facilitate growth in your congregation. Participate in a skill building session especially designed for ministerial and lay leaders. Enjoy a complementary dinner to complete a fulfilling and productive afternoon.

Adult Education

Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael

Two new classes start at UUS in January. Take a look to see if one suits you and register by emailing Phaedra, our office administrator, at administrator@uusterling.org. A $20.00 donation is requested for each Adult Ed class at UUS.

"Soul Work- An Exploration of Race, Theology, and Justice"

First class, January 13, 2010, from 7:00 PM until 9:00 PM. Six classes total, on the second and fourth Wednesdays.

This course is based on the groundbreaking collection of essays, "Soul Work - Anti-Racist Theologies in Dialogue," edited by Marjorie Bowens Wheatley, which addresses such questions as: "What theological or philosophical beliefs bind us together in our shared struggle against racism?" and "What are the costs of racism, both for the oppressors and the oppressed?" Please register soon so we can be sure there is a book available. High school age youth and adults are welcome.

"Singing Workshop"

First class, January 5, 2010, from 7PM until 9PM. Six classes total, on first and third Tuesdays.

This class will be led by Music Director Kris Adams and will focus on:

- learning how to use voice,
- knowing how and why voice works, and
- becoming more confident in reading simple music in order to participate more effectively in singing activities (hymns, chants, etc.). All ages are welcome.

2010 JPD Worship Arts Festival Lighting the Fire of Faith

To find the names of the leaders and assistants for each session, go to the UUS calendar at <http://www.uusterling.org/>, find the correct month and day, and click on the RE class session you would like to view.

Welcoming the New Year

Linda Weaver

2010 has been welcomed in the United States with parties, toasts, noisemakers, fireworks, and reviews of the events of 2009. All around the world people now celebrate the new year on January 1. However, for many there are also older traditional New Year celebrations. Some include gathering with friends and family, making noise, eating special foods that were considered lucky or are traditional to their families, and contemplating the old year and planning for the new. Many celebrations also include worship. However, there are other ways to greet the new year.

- New Year festivities in Japan last for several days and include celebrating firsts, such as the first sunrise of the year, the first visit to the temple, and the first work day.

- The Chinese New Year begins between January 21 and February 20. Preparations include cleaning house and setting out lucky items such as tangerines, evergreen branches and red flowers.

- Nowruz, the Iranian New Year is celebrated in a 13-day holiday beginning on the first day of spring. During the holiday small bonfires are burned and people jump over them to symbolize getting rid of illness and misfortune.

- The first day of the Indian national calendar year is celebrated on March 21 or 22. However, some Indians follow the older calendars and traditions of their regions and celebrate the new year at various times throughout March and early April or at the end of the harvest season in mid-April or December.

- In Thailand, Myanmar, Cambodia, and Laos the New Year celebration lasts for three to five days in mid-April and includes a water festival. People sprinkle and squirt water on friends and strangers as a symbolic cleansing.

- Rosh Hashanah, which falls in September or October, is the beginning of the Jewish year. It is said that God opens the Book of Life on Rosh Hashanah and there are ten days to right any wrongs before God writes down each person's fate for the year and shuts the Book of Life on Yom Kippur.

Any day can be a day of new beginnings. Any time can be a time of renewal, a time to be aware of each new moment and a time to celebrate. Happy New Year! To find out about the children's RE program or to let us know how we can serve your family, contact Linda Weaver at re-director@uusterling.org or 703-406-3068. More information is also available on the UUS website at www.uusterling.org or in brochures near the door at UUS.

UUS Board of Trustees

Joan Johnson

Meeting Minutes of December 2, 2009

Present:

Minister: Rev. Anya Sammler-Michael
President: Bonnie Lepoff
Treasurer: Paul Roche
Director of Religious Exploration: Linda Weaver
Former President: Dave Miller
Youth Member: Julia Burns
At-Large: Belinda Bullock
At-Large: Dorine Scher
At-Large: Ken Ward
At-Large: Linda Reeder

Absent:

Secretary: Joan Johnson

Minutes:

Al Swett: Our tenant is two months behind on rent. (November check was returned for insufficient funds.)

Rev. Anya: We have a meeting in two weeks with them.

Al Swett: We made about $2000 over budget at our Auction. We need $40,000 more in the budget next year. We need to have at least one church rental.

Rev. Anya: We have been in touch with other interested churches.

The Spanish church is paying $20,000 now.

Rev. Anya: We are re-establishing the We Care list. Arts and Aesthetics committee met about colors and carpets for new space.

Bonnie Lepoff: Capital Cable is moving out next week. Tim has plans for us to look at. He wants to move it along. We want to hold off, get plans out, get people to look at them. The Space Committee needs to look at them to see if anything is left out. Dimensions? Storage, classrooms? The December 9 Vespers and Finance Committee meeting will be a good time to look at plans.

Website Maintenance: Deb Corbo and Eric Burns are willing to work on it.

Brian will be training Dave Lum as Webmaster.

By-Laws Revision: Joan contacted Gus Duoguih and Dave Scher. They will look over the by-laws and work on a review.

New space information is in PowerPoint format on the computer for review by the congregation.

Action Items:

Dave Miller will get the plans from Tim this weekend and will send them around for review.

Bonnie will send Paul's PowerPoint slides to Rev. Anya to see if we can use her laptop to show them after the service.

There is a need to ensure that we have additional church rentals to afford the cost of our new space.

Board Host Schedule:

1/03 – Belinda Bullock
1/10 – Julia Burns
1/17 – Joan Johnson
1/24 – Dorine Scher

About Unitarian Universalism

There are seven principles which Unitarian Universalist congregations affirm and promote:

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
- Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
- The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

Unitarian Universalism draws from many sources:

- Direct experience of that transcending mystery and wonder, affirmed in all cultures, which moves us to a renewal of the spirit and an openness to the forces which create and uphold life;
- Words and deeds of prophetic women and men which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion, and the transforming power of love;
- Wisdom from the world's religions which inspires us in our ethical and spiritual life;
- Jewish and Christian teachings which call us to respond to God's love by loving our neighbors as ourselves;
- Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit.

- Spiritual teachings of earth-centered traditions which celebrate the sacred circle of life and instruct us to live in harmony with the rhythms of nature.

These principles and sources of faith are the backbone of our religious community.
